

COMMANDER James W. FARLEY, USN

EXECUTIVE OFFICER

COMMANDER James W. FARLEY, was born in New Bedford, Massachusetts, on June 19, 1926.

His naval service included enlisted tours with U.S. Motor Torpedo Boat Base 24 at Okinawa during World War II and duty in USS MEYLIGER (DE-510) during the Korean Conflict.

He attended Emerson College in Boston, Massachusetts and upon graduation in 1951 returned to active duty with the U.S. Navy.

After being commissioned in 1952, he served as First Lieutenant in USS RICHARD E. KRAUS (DD-849). Other sea assignments included command of the USS MERGANSER (MHC-47) and the USS LOOKOUT (ARG-2) and assignment as Executive Officer, USS VIGIL (AGR-12).

Duty ashore has included assignment as Assistant Academic Director at the U.S. Naval Officer Candidate School in Newport, R.I. Prior to reporting for his present assignment, COMMANDER FARLEY was Head of the Active Officer Promotions Branch, Bureau of Naval Personnel.

COMMANDER FARLEY is married to the former Miss Betty Swan DORNEY of Newport, Rhode Island. COMMANDER and Mrs. FARLEY make their home with their two daughters, Karen and Diana, in San Diego, California.